PRESENTATION

MEDITERRANEAN PEOPLE LIFESTYLE

Frutos 3G, was be founded in 1990 by the members of a familiar business started in 1947. Originally, the activity of this company was buy almonds, walnuts and peanuts in shell to the Mediterranean farming. The Company changed this activity and began to import some nuts and peanuts from other countries and at the same time, bought machineries in order to fry and roast products. At the middle of this decade, began to made news packaging adapted for different selling points, new services was offered as stocking, roasting, frying, and packing of walnuts, seeds and nuts for other companies, started the exportation into the European Union. At this moment, a renovation and an increase of our installations and the acquisition of most modern machineries are made letting us to work with a better "Just in Time", and a better flexibility in the elaboration of products, implant at the same time: the APPCC (Control Critical Points) and the quality certificate for our installations and process of elaboration and packing.

SPANISH ALMONDS

The almonds can be divided in two great groups:
*Almonds of Bitter Seed (Amygdalus communis L. var amara seringe)
*Almonds of Sweet Seed (Amygdalus sweet communis L.s to var seringe)
That can as well be divided in almonds of soft in-shell Rind and almonds of hard in-shell, constituting many of varieties in the world.
The variety of almond more appreciated by its sweet is the MARCONA.
The Spanish varieties are practically of hard in-shell reason why they are protected better against the plagues.
Their excellent qualities with a more intense flavour and of greater oil content than other varieties do specially appreciated Valencia and Marcona almonds by clients at the time of being consumed.
The typical Spanish almond is known for their organoleptic properties (those that appear to the senses), particularly for the sweetness, which differentiates it from almonds of other origins and whose finer points are appreciated by discerning palates.
